The White Cap

Presented by the Senior Class
of the
Watts Hospital
School of Nursing
1961

The people, the attitude, the discipline, the learning, the essence of nursing has given our school its own personality--reflecting responsibility as we care for those who are sick. We are grateful for we feel our years here have been a challenge and that our lives have been enriched.

We sincerely hope that as you revolve around this world of ours, you will share the atmosphere of our hospital, work, dormitory living, and social activities.

Dedication

You have expressed sincere concern for the health and personal satisfaction of others and have become an inspiration to each of us. Your willingness to render service combined with a wholesome humor and a warm smile create a dynamic personality that wins the heart of everyone. The Senior Class of Watts Hospital School of Nursing, with pride, dedicate to you the WHITE CAP of 1961...

In Memoriam

DOCTOR EARL RUNYON TYLER

To honor a great doctor and friend, we the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-one leave our yearbook in memory of Dr. Earl Runyon Tyler, Dermatologist. 1899-February 19, 1960.

"The sweetest lines are those to duty wed,
Whose deeds, both great and small,
Are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread,
Where love ennobles all.
The world may sound no trumpet, ring no bells;
The book of life the shining record tells."

Elizabeth Barrett Browning

THE NURSES' SYMBOL LAMP

Though we do seek in kind earnestness to understand
The hidden truth, little do we know of human pain,
Of suffering, anxiety, or death. Yet inevitably
We must face the challenge of the sick multitude;
Our efforts ever toward obedience, our minds
Prepared to administer. Loneliness may destroy
The sparkle from aged brows; neglect may cheat
Rebounding youth. Timely expressions of love and Wisdom extend a guiding hand. Many are those who Seek a relief, a restoration of spirits weak—
A bath, a smile, a tablet with love; oh, indeed
Must be our symbol lamp, a burning light.

We, the graduating class of 1961, entered Watts three years ago as pre-clinicals to begin furthur preparation for our future. During our first nine months, we studied hard but also had fun. Our class officers were Betty Baines, president, Mary Lou Smoak, vice president, Ellen Moore, secretary, Sandra Hursey, treasurer, and Anne Carter, historian. Faculty sponsors our freshman year were Mrs. Flora Stanley and Mrs. Peggy Heinsohn. One of our classmates, Alta Taylor received the Lee Parker Scholarship, and Betty McGhee attended the National Student Nurse Convention in Philadelphia.

As a climax to our first nine months, the traditional Capping ceremony was held at the Trinity Methodist Church on May 31, 1959. During our freshman summer we continued our studies and occasionally took "side trips" to the YMCA to soak in the sun. Summer activities included ice cream parties, hobo picnics, and tennis. We also played softball on the vacant lot behind the Wyche House. There were glee club concerts with the N.C. State and UNC college choirs, as well as morning worship services at nearby churches. In each of the freshman dorms vespers were given in the evening.

With the advent of becoming Juniors in September, we began to more readily accept the increasing responsibility which faced us, and our free time suddenly vanished when we rotated to operating and delivery room call. After six months of medical-surgical nursing on a clinical basis, we began "special services," pediatrics, operating and obstetrical areas, and psychiatry. In March, the first twelve of our classmates, "packed up" for the Hill. Eventually each of us shared these experiences at the Dorothea Dix Hospital in Raleigh. Those three months helped us to mature and gain deeper insight into the basic concepts of nursing.

Junior class officers were Norkie Edgerton, president; Jane Price, vice president; Carolyn Ingold, secretary; Ruth Stokely, treasurer; and Alta Taylor, historian. Our major project for the year was the production of the Christmas candles. In the spring, Diane Steed attended the National Student Nurse Convention in Miami Beach. The class worked earnestly to raise money for the coming yearbook.

September of 1960 brought greater responsibilities into our lives. Only a few days prior to the Black Banding ceremony, Santa Filomena tapping was held. As the rising senior class, we accepted our new role with anticipation and began our last year with enthusiasm! Miss Betty Lusk, faculty member, was elected with Mrs. Stanley to sponsor the class.

We had many bake sales, and raffled a ham and turkey for projects. In March, the annual "White Cap" dance was held at the Elks Club. The senior class was represented by Miss Carolyn Ingold; our Junior representative was Miss Billie Gray Thomas, and our Freshman representative was Miss Anne Carter. The spring also brought to life glee club activities as well as basketball games. Bobbie Snyder, student body president, attended the National Convention in Cleveland. With the summer months rapidly approaching, we bid a farewell to Jane Price as she traveled to Africa to be a summer student missionary nurse, through the sponsorship of the Baptist State Convention. June was the month of the bride-to-be tea, as well as the final fitting of the graduation uniforms.

There were graduation shoes to be ordered, invitations to be mailed, and many other last minute loose ends to be anchored. With graduation only around the corner, we studied in our moments of quiet and planned for the approaching State Board examinations in the fall. At last, these three years are behind us; this may sound as a sigh of relief, but all is not joy. There is a touch of sadness as we, the class of 1961, step out into a rapidly expanding profession and leave behind our faculty and memories which have indeed enriched our lives forever.

THE WORLD OF WATTS

As I returned to Durham after having been away ten years, I decided to reminisce at my alma matter. DOROTHY CARPENTER BULLOCK is head of the Admissions Office, and her former roommate ANNE CARTER is living in Hawaii with Bob and her five children. In walking down the hall, I noticed MISS NORKIE EDGERTON'S name on the Director of Nurses door; also, I saw the name of JOYCE SUTTON on the Director of Nursing Service. In passing Ward I, I see DIANNE BERRY LEWIS, head nurse, busily making out her grocery list for Jack and their two girls. BARBARA POPE PIERCE and her husband Jimmy are living in Pittsburg where he is pitching with the Pirates. CAROLYN INGOLD, BRENDA BROWN, and JUNE VINCENT are still in the Air Force Nurses Corp, and have just returned from Europe. I walked on toward Ward G, where I met BETTY McGHEE TYMAN, OB Supervisor, she had been trying to draft someone for DR. Call. CAROLYN WILSON WILKERSON and husband Ronald are living in Hurdle Mills on their dairy farm. JANE PRICE IRVING and Don are now living on their farm in Leaksville. The head nurse of Ward G is none other than RUTH STOKELY LUPTON who tells me that KAY MATTHEWS WHEDBEE and Snake are living on their tobacco farm near Norfolk. JUDY LAUGHTER KING and Jupe are living in Raleigh, where she is instructor at Dorothea Dix Hospital. Also working at Dorothea Dix Hospital is JANE PRIDGEN WALKER and husband Preston, chief psychiatrist. I walked on to the clinical instructor's office to find ELLEN MOORE, BETTY BAINES, and ALTA TAYLOR busily grading Research Papers. Next on my agenda, I visited Mrs. Massey in Hill House. She informed me that BECKY ATKINS liked Ward L so much, she returned there to be head nurse. JO ANNA CARPENTER married her Norfolk policeman, Frank, and they are presently living there. Employed at Wake Memorial Hospital are KAY COCHRANE, DIANNE CREECH, and DE ANNA HOLLOWELL. DORIS YEATTS McGAVIS and Jim are now living in Florida, while CATHERINE KIMERY JERNIGAN and Bill are living in Charlotte. Next, I went to the Educational Office where I saw MARY LOU SMOAK CAUTHEN as Director, LINDA McKNIGHT is head Nursing Arts Instructor. BILLIE GRAY THOMAS LASSITER and Mike are living in Boone, and her former roommate JERRY MILLER is studio nurse at Metro Goldyn Mayer. BETTY ANN WRIGHT is attending the International Bridge Tournament in Europe, and JANICE HUDSON is Director of Nurses at the new Clarksville, Va. hospital. SONDRA MARSH and MARGARET HOLLINGSWORTH are nursing instructors in San Francisco, California. JERRY CULPEPPER SMITH and Keith are living at Chapel Hill where he is teaching at UNC. LINDA RICKMAN married a banker and is now living in Michigan, while SANDRA HURSEY BENNETT and Bob are in South Carolina attending school. Vacationing in Bermuda from her head nurse position at VA is MARCELLA McKEEL. Returning to the mountains to set up housekeeping are PATSY SORRELLS KNOTT and Larry as did RANDY YOUNG BLACKWOOD and Barry. DIANE STEED LONG and Allen are flying to Florida on her weekends off in their new airplane. Well, now you all know where my forty-one classmates are, that leaves only the forty-second, I, BOBBIE SNYDER, married Bill Sharp and after ten years in USMC, we have returned to Durham to make our home.

Last Will and Testament

I, REBECCA ATKINS, leave my love for dancing to Terry Taylor.
I, BETTY BAINES, leave my vivaciousness to Winnie Everette.
We, DIANNE BERRY and BARBARA POPE, leave our notes of warning and our now clean room to Anita Petrea and Nancy Nelms.
We, BRENDA BROWN and JUNE VINCENT, leave our love for the woods to Sally Lupton and Judy Germino.
I, JO ANNA CARPENTER, leave my many bus stubs to Linda Southern in hopes they'll bring to her the happiness they brought to me.
I, DOROTHY CARPENTER, leave Room 115 to join Ben in our new home.
I, ANNE CARTER, leave my many frustrations to be divided among the rising seniors.
I, KAY COCHRANE, leave my many boy-friends to Peggy Allen hoping she'll find their company as enjoyable as I did.
I, DIANNE CREECH, leave my "body" building exercises to anyone needing them.
I, JERRY CULPEPPER, leave Watts to start helping Keith grade papers.
I, NORKIE EDGERTON, leave my clean shoes and shoe strings to the rising senior who was sent back to polish hers.
I, MARGARET HOLLINGSWORTH, leave my rimmed glasses to Joyce Orphal in case she needs them after three years here.
I, "HANNAH" HOLLOWELL, leave my gifts from Michigan to the junior who likes nice gifts.
I, JANICE HUDSON, leave before I lose my mind.
I, SANDRA HURSEY, leave my stones to be used as the foundation stones for the new addition to Watts Hospital.
I, CAROLYN INGOLD, leave my kilts to Martha Sue Johnson.
I, CATHERINE KIMERY, leave my many trips to the beach for better ones with Bill.
I, JUDY LAUGHTER, leave my ability to make quick clothes changes whenever and wherever necessary to anyone who might need it.
I, SONDRA MARSH, leave my dignity to Marion Cobb.
I, KAY MATTHEWS, leave my need of stamps to Mary Lib Hiser.
I, BETTY McGHEE, leave my dependability to Ann Bland.
I, MARCELLA McKEEL, leave my room on 401—I escaped!
I, LINDA McKNIGHT, leave—I hope.
I, JERRY MILLER, leave my blind dating to the blindest rising senior in hopes her eyes will be opened and she may see.
We, ELLEN MOORE and JANE PRIDGEN, leave Miss Sherron with many gray hairs.
I, JANE PRICE, leave to help clean up the Congo.
I, LINDA RICKMAN, leave my charming personality to Mary Staunton.
I, MARY SMOAK, leave my outstanding pensmanship—A doctor's wife should be able to afford a typewriter.
I, BOBBIE SNYDER, leave my position in SNA to Billie Rimmer.
I, PAT SORRELLS, leave this flat land for them thar hills.
I, DIANE STEED, hope I've left my ulcer.
I, RUTH STOKELY, leave with Goaty three years later than I wanted to leave.
I, JOYCE SUTTON, leave with Germ to see the world.
I, BILLIE GRAY THOMAS, leave in spite of all they're done to keep me here.
I, CAROLYN WILSON, leave Otis for the pre-clinicals to fight over.
I, BETTY ANN WRIGHT, leave many broken hearted boys.
I, DORIS YEATTS, leave, at last, to be with Jim forever.
I, MIRANDA YOUNG, leave with as many of my records as I can find.
I, ALTA TAYLOR, leave with many delightful memories.

Lois C. Cox Award

This award was made possible by Mrs. Edith Brocker, Associate Dean, Duke University School of Nursing, in fond memory of her housemate, Miss Lois Cox; and in appreciation for what Watts Hospital did for Miss Cox during her illness.

The award is presented through the Senior Class to the Faculty member we feel has contributed most to the professional and personal growth of the members of the graduating class. We have chosen MRS. CECILE ZUNNER.

We shall never forget the inspiration we received from her encouragement and counseling, and the genuine interest she expressed to us.

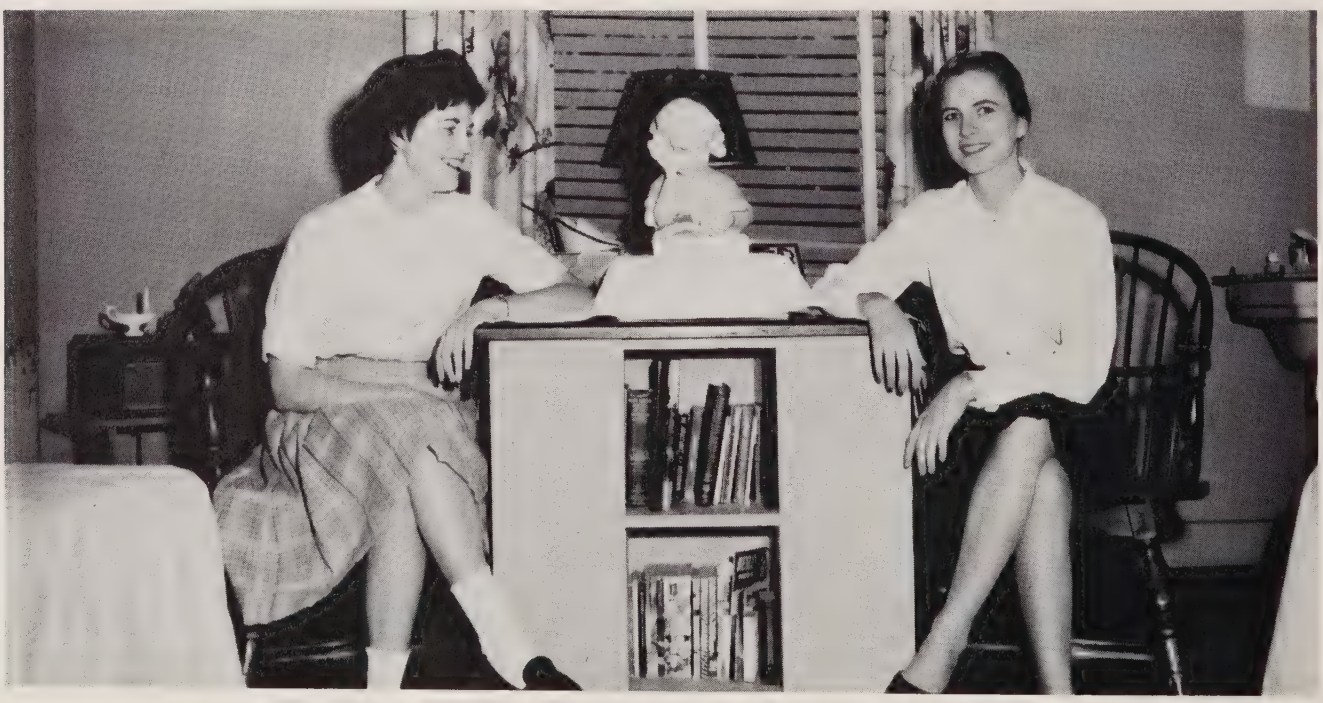
Annie



At the State Fair in the year 1943, a senior student bought a plaster figurehead which she named Annie. She had no roommate here at school and when she graduated, Annie was passed on to the most deserving and closest roommates in the rising Senior Class. Since that time, Annie has remained a tradition in the Watts School of Nursing. Annie, now battered with patch upon patch, was given this year to...

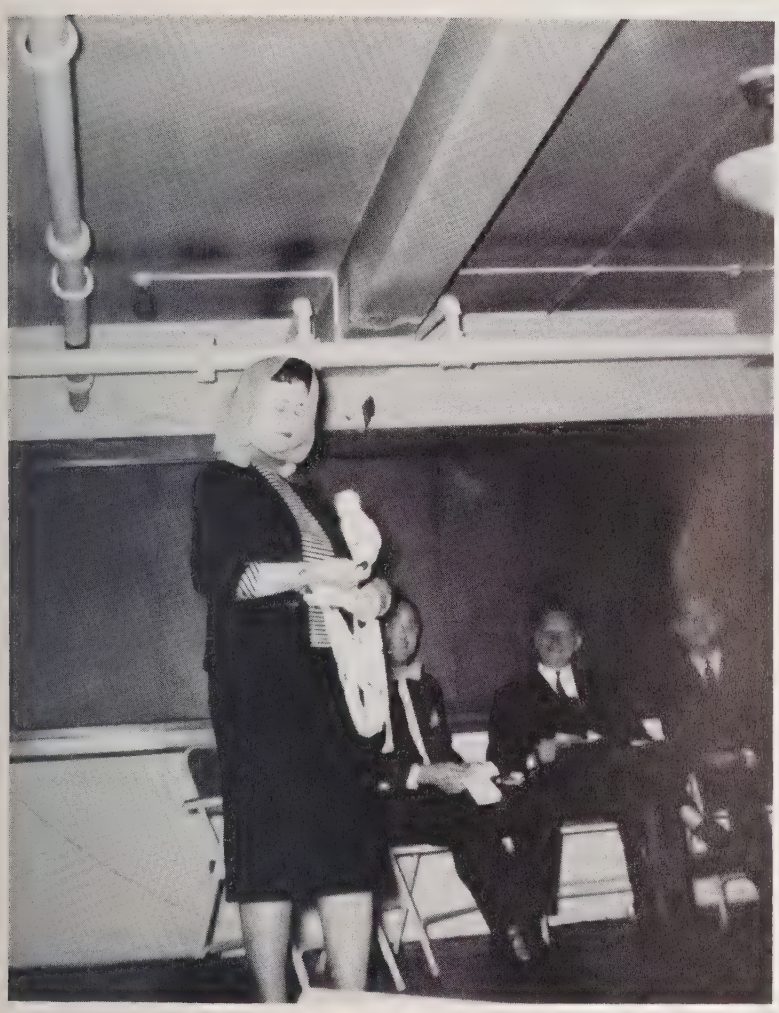
LINDA RICKMAN

Linda has served us as class president with willingness and interest for which we must say thank you. She has been concerned and met business in a business way, yet never losing those qualities which we, the senior class, recognized when choosing her to represent Miss Nightingale. She portrayed this role at the annual Christmas Candelight Caroling and at the Capping Ceremony.

Christian Student Union



C S U

The purpose of the Christian Student Union is to strengthen the spiritual life of the students and sponsor religious activities on campus. In addition to monthly programs for students, the CSU sponsors Sunday worship services for the patients.

Officers are as follows: Anne Allen, President; Coral Mills, Vice President; Toni Tulloch, Secretary; Marion Cobb, Music Chairman; Linda Roach, Publicity Chairman; Billie Rimmer, Publicity Chairman.

During our Pediatric rotation, we spend one week at the North Carolina Cerebral Palsy Hospital.

Glee Club

The annual staff wishes to thank MR. LAVERGNE JOHNSON, our photographer, for working with us this year. He has been especially patient and understanding with irregular hospital hours interrupting photograph schedules. He never seemed to mind the many "ambulatory" miles back and forth over the hospital. We leaned heavily on his guidance.

We cannot express adequate gratitude to the annual staff for their interest and co-operation throughout the year. We are indebted to Mr. Lavergne Johnson, photographer; Mr. J.B. Edwards, layout artist; and Mr. Ed Goldston who aided us with our publication by the Hunter Publishing Company for their service, counseling, and patience. We sincerely thank Mr. Donald Irving for his contributions of art.

Classmates of 1961, as seniors, not too far distant is the realization of our goal; we hope in years to come the WHITE CAP will bring to life many happy memories as you reminisce our student days. Much is to be remembered; much is left unsaid.

Sincerely,

Jane and Betty
